Leadership in the Round

Leadership in Third Sector & Adult Learning for Leadership

Speakers will include

Chris Minter –

Interim Service Director, Safer and Stronger Communities, Leicester City Council.

Dhara Vyas –

Policy Team, National Council for Voluntary Organisations

Hazel Capper –

Leadership & Governance Programme, Community Sector Coalition

Saturday 11th October 2008

11.00am – 3.30pm

The Resource Centre

356 Holloway Road, London N7 6PA

This event recognises the continuity of learning, acting and leading in communities. It responds to 'Communities in control – Real people, real power', the Government's Empowerment White Paper, which stresses the importance of Citizenship Education and Community Sector Leadership in making Britain a fairer society.

It also builds on the response made by the ECA to the DIUS consultation; 'Informal Adult Learning – Shaping the Way Ahead', which recommends the building of infrastructure to support the future of Adult Learning.

Programme includes the Annual and Special
General Meetings

Leadership in Third Sector & Adult Learning for Leadership

The ECA and Leadership

The ECA, which is in reciprocal membership with NIACE, is a founder member of the Community Sector Coalition. It is long-term funded by the Education Department, now DIUS and contributed to the 'Take Part¹ Citizenship Learning Framework' published by the Home Office. It is a principal partner in the acclaimed 'TEACH, European Active Citizenship Training' Grundtvig Project.

We were members of the steering group prior to the establishment of CEL, the further education Centre for Excellence in Leadership and through our Hon Secretary, have had representation on that body and at LEAFEA, the local authorities' adult learning forum.

The ECA has long understood the importance of Citizenship Education and the positive effects this can have on both communities and individuals. This conference will analyse how third sector and adult learning organisations can integrate this further in their work.

Why should Members attend the AGM?

The ECA's Annual General Meeting will give Members the opportunity to explore internal leadership issues at a time of rapid growth in the organisation, contrasted with a continuing downturn in its traditional areas of interest and expertise which it continues to champion.

What will Delegates gain from the Conference?

This event will give a broad and rounded view of issues in leadership policy in both the third sector and in adult learning, at a time of great change and opportunity. In responding to current Government initiatives, it provides a chance to analyse how leadership-learning takes place in a variety of different communities and environments.

The conference provides a very particular opportunity for delegates to hear a range of perspectives and share views in an open and reflective atmosphere.

Fee - includes lunch:

£20 for members

£50 for non-members
